LOCAL MISCELLANY.

INQUIRING INTO A DISASTER.

There were very few persons present yesterday in the court-room of the Coroner's office, when the inquest in the case of the ten persons killed by the falling of the two buildings at Grand-st, and South Flith-ave, was began. Coroner Herrman presided. The only lawyer present interested in the case was Charles A. Kitchel, who was there in the interests of Charles K. Hyde, the inspector who was discharged from the Bureau of Buildings for not examining into the condition of the buildings when they were reported to be unsafe. Inspector Esterbrook was seated behind the Coroner, and he listened to the testimony rather listlossly, with one hand in his pocket.

In presenting the case to the jury, Coroner Herrman spoke at some length. He condemned the "avaricious landlords," who only thought of their rents, and did not regard the safety of their tenants. The laws in regard to the duty of the inspectors of buildings, he said, were explicit, and if these were properly enforced, it would be almost impossible for an accident of this kind to occur. The fact that the head of a Burean intrusted a duty to a subordinate who failed to perform it, was not "an excuse in good law or good sense."

John Rudolph, who lived at No. 55 Grand-st, and whose wife perished in the accident, was the first witness. He was in the building when it fell, and he described his own escapa. When he came to tell of his wife's death his eyes filled with tears and he nearly broke down. "I had heard," he continued, "that the building was not safe, and I saw Mr. Levy, the owner, about it. He said that it was all right, and would only need a little repairing. My wife saw an inspector of the Bureau of Building, who told her there was a not danger."

Ferdinand Bold, who lived at No. 53 Grand-st, and whose wife's mother and brother, Frances and John Knaup, were killed, had heard that the building was unsafe, and his wife had spoken to Mr. O'Brien about it. O'Brien had promised to have it repaired. There was a crack in the chimney in one room an inch in widdt in TE TIMONY IN REGARD TO THE GRAND-ST. CALAMITY MR. LEVY'S UNWILLINGNESS TO MAKE REPAIRS.

building, however, appeared to him to be a good it was a year ago.

Mrs. Mary Mulvey, the daughter of John McNoulny, a porter in Cladin's store, who was killed in the liquor store of the building, told about her father's death with tears in her eyes.

The plastering in the room in which this inquest was being held was taken off the ceiling directly over the Coroner's desk a day or two ago. As airs. Mulvey left the stand, somebody walked about in the room overhead, and sand dropped down from the ceiling. e ceiling. The Coroner-You had better look out, Inspector

The Coroner—You had better look out. Inspector Esterbrook, or this room will be tumbling down.

The Inspector answered that he did not expect an accident immediately, and Charles F. Saville. whose denghters Mary and Minmie were killed at No. 55 Grand-st., where he lived, took the witness stand. "I had never heard that the building was unsafe," Saville said, "and the only reason for thinking it might be was from what I knew."

The Coroner—What did you know?

"Only what I saw. And to tell the truth this building looks more manfe than that one did. There was a crack in the front wall of my parlor, and I went to Mr. Levy about it. I was afraid it might spoil the paper. O'Brien then brought a builder, Mr. Lasher, to see me, who said that there was no danger, and that if the walls should fall they would only hurt the people on the sidewalk. I showed Levy a place in the hall where the carving had bulged away from the brickwork, but he said that there was no danger.

The Coroner—Did Mr. Levy ever make any repairs?

"Naver unless he was obliged to, Mr. OB'rien."

The Coroner—Did Mr. Levy ever make any repairs?

"Never, unless he was obliged to. Mr. OB'rien was mere willing to make repairs than Levy. Levy wanted to soil the house."

Mrs. Maria Cerf lived at No. 55 Grand-st., and she had a very narrow escape from death. Mrs. Rudolph toid her, she said, that Levy had refused to repair the crack in the wall in her room, and that she had to stop it up to keep out the cold.

Captain McCoaneil, of the Eighth Precinct, described the work of the police after the accident, and then the case was adjourned until to-day at 11 a. m.

CHARGES AGAINST ALDERMEN.

THE JERSEY CITY BOARD ALLEGED TO BAVE DE MANDED MONEY BEFORE IT WOULD GRANT A

MANDED MONEY BEFORE IT WOULD GRAST A PERMIT.

A gang consisting of twenty-one men and a fore-man shortly after 12 o clock Sauday night began to dig holes in Myrtle-ave., Jersey City Heights, pre-paratory to putting up poles. A policeran saw the men at work and informed Captain McKaig, of the Fourth Precinct, who with a squad of policemen arrested the workmen on a charge of violating a city ordinance by putting up belegraph poles without a permit from the Board of Aldermen. The prisoners were arraigned before Justice Poloubet yesterday morning, Leon Abbett appearing for the city and Barker Gummere, jr., for the defence. It was proved that the men were engaged in constructing a telegraph line for the Matual Union Telegraph Company, and that they had no permission from the Board of Aldermen, as the ordinance requires. Mr. Gummere, in summing up for the prisoners, declared that the company could have had permission from the Board of Aldermen if it had been willing to bribe the Board. For six months, he said, the company had been seeking permission, but the aldermen refused to grant it without being paid. Money had been demanded from the company for votes, but this being refused the permission could not be obtained.

Mr. Abbett immediately suggested that Mr. Gummere should out his being refused to that mere should not he company to roves, but this being refused the permission could not be obtained.

Mr. Abbett immediately suggested that Mr. Gummer should put his charge in proper shape, so that the Court could investigate it, and the Court seconded the suggestion; but Mr. Gummere said he was not prepared to do that, although the information came to him from such a trustworthy sonice that he knew it must be true. Mr. Abbett then said that the charge was of a very serious character, and should be thoroughly investigated. Mr. Gummere, he thought, should either withdraw it or take the proper steps to substantiate it. Mr. Gummere said that he would have to consult the officers of the company, from whom he had obtained the information. Mr. Abbett proposed that the officers be subpensed if they were within the jurisdiction of the Court, but Mr. Gummere declined to give the names of the officers, and said that he would withdraw the charge for the present.

In the course of the discussion Mr. Gummere said that if a fine were imposed the defendants would have ito pay it themselves, as the company would not be responsible. Mr. Abbett answered that if the men were fined, and the company that caused them to violate the law refused to pay the line, he would, without compensation, begin suits for damages against the company in behalf of the men. The prisoners were fined $10 each, and held in the court-room until Mr. Gummere went to New-York and obtained a check from the commany for the full amount, $220. The abdermen at their next meeting will probably demand an investigation.

TROUBLES OF THE LABORING MEN. Mr. Abbett immediately suggested that Mr. Gun

The coach drivers continue to hold out against the combined efforts of the stable keepers to establish a uniform rate of $12 a week. The men have received considerable pecaniary assistance from other trades unions and persons, which strengtheus their determination not to return to work until their demands are acceded to.

The eigar packers' strike at Straiton & Storm's factory has not resulted in any advantage to the men thus far. The advertisement of the firm for new packers and the proposition to put men from the eigar-making department into the packing-toom, have left the jstrikers without a resource, and con-have left the strikers without a resource, and con-semently the strike is virtually at an end.

The success of the cabinet-makers in their recent demand for more pay is likely to lead to another difficulty with their employers, the men having received notice that on December 1 the former rate of waces will be reestablished. They resolved at a meeting recently held to submit to no reduction, and if the wages are reduced they will strike in a body.

PERILS OF OCEAN TRAVEL.

PERILS OF OCEAN TRAVEL.

The Portuguese bark Guilherme arrived from Rio Janeiro yesterday, after a perileus voyage of fortynine days. A terrific hurricane, with a correspondingly heavy sea, was encountered on November 10 in the latitude of the West Indies; sails were torn into ribbons, and the decks swept of everything movable. Three of the sailors, who were along the rail working at the rigging, were washed overtoard by a great sea, but the next instant the sea surged back landing the sailors on deck again. They went on with their work as if nothing had happened.

The Belgian steamship Helvetia, which arrived from Antwerp yesterday, had terriffic weather during the latter part of the voyage. On November 17, in latitude 43° north, longitude 58° 50′ west, the fishing schooner Mist, of Gloucester, Mass., was spoken, with loss of rudder and short of provisions. Boef, flour, bread and water were furnished from the Helvetia.

THE BROOKLYN PARK LANDS.

Fark Commissioner Stranahan, of Brooklyn, sent a request to Mayor Howell to ask the Common Council to authorize the issue of bonds for $200,000 under the act of the Legislature of 1877, authorboder the act of the Legislature of 1877, authorizing the raising of money to improve the Prospect Park lands to be sold, to be applied to the improvement of the 700 lots yet musold of the East Side Park lands, such bonds to be paid from the proceeds of the sale within one year. In sending the resolution, as drawn by Mr. Stramahan, to the Board of Aldermen, Mayor Howeli urged the matter as one of great importance. Yesterday, by a vote of 15 to 6, the matter was referred to the Grading and Paving Committee by the aldermen.

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS.

The banking house of Phelps, Stokes & Co. will retire from business at the close of the year. The death of James Stokes and the recent serious illness of Isaac N. Pheln, s the principal partners of the firm, make the discontinuance necessary. Anson Phelps Stokes, one of the remaining partners, is suffering from a scrious attack of gont in the eye, and is indisposed to continue in active business. Mr. Olcott has not yet made his business arrangements, and will rest probably before again taking an active part. The firm was not organized until 1879.

THE NEWARK BANK TROUBLE.

THE NEWARK BANK TROUBLE.

It is probable that within twenty-four hours a new phase of the Newark Mechanics Bank troubles will be developed. District Attorney Keasbey yesterday contemplated taking an important step, but other engagements prevented this. It is stated that this action will be the arrest of a person who has been concerned in operations that point to complicity with Cashier Baldwin in the obstruction of the funds of the bank, and whose immunity from arrest has caused some criticism.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the depositors was held at the office of Arthur Devine. The meeting was a private one and each depositor was pledged not to divulge the proceedings. The directors were severely criticised. Reference was made to one director who had neglected his business to remain at the bank discounting paper. Several depositors commented upon the fact that the Government officers had taken no action in view of the disclosures showing large speculations on the part of the paying teller of the bank. Most of the depositors expressed a firm determination to press the snits against the directors to the utmost. It is understood that the first writs in the snits against the directors will be issued to-day.
